The Starseed Mission

The Starseed Mission : Reclaiming Christos Body

The source code or unity intelligence field is a Krystal Star (Christos Consciousness) hub accessed through the merging of manifested bodies holding trinity wave formats that connect directly into the Eternal Source light (Godhead). The three sound-wave-tone parts when merged into internal energetic balance become designed as one component that access directly into the feedback loop exchanging with the Eternal source supply. This exchange with the godhead is the principle of Christos, an inner sustained eternal source light which signals the end of vampirism or consumptive modeling on planet. This is what it means that the Godhead cannot be reached by anything but the Christos Consciousness (Krystal Star Tones), although this process of unifying consciousness with the Godhead is known by different names.

The Krystal/Christos architecture is that which allows the synchronic phasing of inner/outer/inbetween currents of energy to be inhaled and exhaled circulating the eternal life spark of creation throughout the entire organism.

This trinity principle is the original holographic architecture of the microcosm to macrocosm, planetary, human and all of universal creation. Our bodies and souls were not created by Reptilian Anunnaki or other E.T. False Father Gods; we were modified and hybridized to suit their various domination agendas through hybridization. The Christos template is designed as a unity form of embodiment, thus all architecture, patterns and 12D code must be embodied as a trinity wave to return the Christos to the earth. The original source code of one component cannot work without the other three parts unified together. Hence we have existed on 3D earth in a separated state, governed by the tyranny of the False Father Gods, only allowed to experience within a partial component of the entirety of our existence. The Holy Mother, the Holy Father and the Holy Son (Christos) are all One as the Godhead; however the Mother principle is not the Father principle, nor the Son. There is an energy matrix comprised of frequency that is a trinity wave tone, this tone is inter-dimensional and also a part of the core substance of our Universal matrix. Up until recently this planet (consciousness) was separated from the merge between all of its creational components. Now that our Mother principle component has returned, this is the unique process and massive transformation an ascending group of humans begin as potential planetary Christos consciousness.

Many of us as Starseeds are the Ascension blueprint prototypes to embody this source code energy into the physical realm, and we have begun the alchemical process to become the "house where Christos dwells". The Spring Equinox will activate this Inner Christos embodiment potential for more of us in the Starseed family. This cycle will be a rebirth for the masculine principle.

Starseeds Reclaim Christos Mission

During this end evolution cycle that leads into the current Ascension timeline, many different variations of soul-spirit consciousness from a vast array of planets, galaxies and universes have joined the reincarnation cycle on 3D planet earth. Some are biologically organic future humans while others are not; yet, all have come in order to experience the shifting consciousness fields on the 3D planet earth at this end cycle. These particular groups of soul-spirit beings that have incarnated in a 3D human body are referred to as Starseeds. Even though Starseeds hold more genetic memory from these future stations of identity, All is One and valued in its connection to the Eternal Source Creator. Starseeds have specific roles and a humanitarian spiritual mission to help free the planetary soul from spiritual and energetic oppression enforced by the NAA through the False Father God Religions. This is to elevate and change destructive timelines through genetic rehabilitation and erase negative alien mind control software programs. These software program "religions" were put in place by the patriarchal dominate negative aliens in order to be worshipped as Gods and easily enforce the enslavement of the planetary population.

for a wide variety of reasons and interests. The primary goal was to re-establish the potential freedom from forced reincarnation through the restoration of the Cosmic Sovereign Law of One through the reclamation of the Christos body template. In order to do so the Negative Alien Agenda of planetary domination, enslavement, hybridization and abduction would have to be eventually revealed to humanity. However, the extraterrestrial agenda and the history of extraterrestrial genetic influence in both every day human events and the many historical records have been extinguished in every way possible. Both benevolent and malevolent extraterrestrials have been involved with this planet for millions of years, and they have never left this planet. This was known on planet until the last 5,500 years, when most of this knowledge and its written history were destroyed. Only the reptilian bloodline manipulated humans were given this knowledge in secret to maintain their position for power and control. They are ultimately puppets for off planet Controllers that sold out the human race. History is re-written by the victor of war, and hence, the real extraterrestrial agenda is hidden while a false record of human history is put into its place.

Many Starseeds were aware of a psycho-spiritual warfare between extraterrestrial races and came to this planet as embodied human intelligence portals to feed back to the overall group effort in its reconnaissance mission back to their home planet or Universe. However when most got here, they were subjected to the many alien implants, mind control systems, dark infiltration and victim/victimizer software like all human beings. For those reasons many still remain asleep or subverted to the fact of their real spiritual mission and consciousness.

However, it has been generally understood that during the end cycle the Neutron Window is opening between this third dimensional planet earth which intersects with the Universal Transharmonic gateways. The Trans-gate timelines are that which allow these Starseeds to reconnect and return to their home frequency after this "tour of duty".

For Starseeds, this lifetime is a recon mission that was required to gather the intel required to comprehend the levels of genetic damage, the source of planetary invasion, the identity of the main intruder races, and attempt to offer sovereignty and freedom to the souls which had been enslaved, abused and entrapped in repeated reincarnation cycles. One of the primary issues is the horrifying violation of the human soul from negative alien abduction, satanic ritual abuse, soul body siphoning, sexual mutilation, cloning replicant bodies, and using living human bodies sperm and ovum to genetically farm human and E.T. hybrid bodies.

Many Starseeds have come to this planet to research, collect intel to source hybridization agendas and observe the alien abduction and contactee phenomena on planet. In most all cases the direct abduction or contact experience is required in order to collect the information and return it back through the Neutron Window to the Guardian Krystal Host races. The Krystal Star family is a Guardian race that has intervened with this planet to help heal and free the soul entrapment and bodily imprisonment the N.A.A. have extracted upon the human population of earth.

Quick Primer on Various Incarnation Agreements:

Starseed - Souls having lived or originated on other planets, other galaxies, on spacecraft, or in other dimensions and interlocking world spaces, who have volunteered to assist in bringing in the Ascension Cycle (New Age of Reason) and assist Earth through her next phase of evolution. They inhabit their human body from its birth. Some are born knowing their identity and purpose, others are to be activated, or wake up, at a later time. The timing of the moment of birth is deliberate. Souls agreeing to come to Earth together find corresponding genetics that fit their soul's mission. A lot of experiments have been put in motion through bloodlines just for this purpose, in order to house the star seed operation. There are many variations of these experiments with star seed, and there are many combinations of astrological star codings, from planet placement to blood/genetic requirements, to match galactic agendas. One may have astrological markings through star seed codes, but without the bloodline to enhance the markings, it gets more difficult for a star seed to resonate to galactic agenda, but not impossible.

Starseeds are programmed, so to speak, to aid in the activation of their brothers and sisters in collective advancement through moral, ethical and mental and spiritual guidance. When a star seed is called upon to gather in "unison of purpose," that is when others seem to witness miracles or magic in motion, because of their combined galactic heritage. Most star seed that are truly activated from all levels seem to hold their optimism about the missions that they have chosen. Another trait of star seed is to totally rejuvenate their bodies through meditation or other modes of healing. Others not yet activated into their knowing can and do turn sometimes to darker agendas of behavior. True power of star seed comes from knowing their total journey and specific mission with the earth and humanity. There seems to be a constant among star seed, which is that a guidance system seems to oversee their stay on Earth and assist when truly needed.

Indigos - Extraterrestrial souls (beyond 3D earth plane) born to human bodies having more than two strands of DNA. They have unique abilities because of their DNA. They are the result of advanced extraterrestrial blood experiments that have gone through many genetic changes in order to foster their interdimensional talents. This is a large group of souls that chose to come to earth via spacecraft, mostly from the Pleiades, and hosted through Sirius Gateway and beamed down as human energetic templates as embryos that would match their missions through genetic codes. Most Indigos now on the planet were born after the Harmonic Convergence of 1987. They require innovative parenting and should not be medicated for ADHD as children.

Both their astrological imprints and blood codings will match every time, no exceptions. Indigos also have the ability to pick up signals from ET beacons, such as the one found by Russian cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin and American Alan Shephard during 1961 referred to as "postcards from the rim". These ET beacons emit both light and tone signals, along with a mathematical language, which can translate like a 3D film of the Galaxy. Many monoliths are out in space, devised by a group of ET races, and now Indigos seem to resonate to their intergalactic messages and translate that new language into the earth consciousness fields.

Walk-Ins – The classic definition of a walk-in is an advanced soul choosing to volunteer, through a combination of galactic agendas, to assist Earth through her next stage of evolution. They do not go through the birth process; they trade places with someone already in human form through a prearranged agreement with that soul. If a Star Seed or Light Worker have no other way to complete their soul mission, then they might agree to leave the body and make a trade with a Walk-In. Many advanced galactic civilizations have used these Walk-In experiments at the pinnacle of evolutionary change in order to match celestial agendas. This is not to be confused with being possessed of spirit, that is another matter all together. These Walk-Ins that are being placed in human form are guided in deliberate fashion and in accordance with "free will" at cosmic levels of agreements.

The silver cord of life force is traveled upon to imprint the new consciousness of the Walk-In and agreements are made to fulfill certain family concerns left unfinished by the soul walking out. After a period of adjustment, then certain behavior patterns immerge and drastic changes start to take place such as weddings, divorces, re-location, change of occupation, even sexual preference may change. Walk-ins can be permanent, which means that the original soul will not return. Temporary Walk-Ins can use a human body for short periods of time while the original is gathering new instructions while residing in other realms before returning back to body. So a Walk-In can be permanent or temporary. There are also other ascension prototypes for the "walk in" that differ from this classic template. These can be soul braids from Galactic family, embodiment of Star or planet Logoi, or other arrangements that are specific to genetic template creation and birthing which is required for soul groupings to incarnate in other planetary chains.

Lightworkers - Advanced souls originating on Earth, who have evolved to the point of developing special abilities and talents, which are needed for elevating the planet and her inhabitants. They were born to the body they occupy. They seem to be drawn to Star Seed missions and want to be involved with their agendas. They are the angelic worker bees of mission control. Many will choose to have astrological star codings, although they will not be star seed, but by frequency they seem to resonate to healthy lifestyles and empower mental, moral, ethical, spiritual behavior wherever they go. Their home is the Earth and they want to keep it sustainable for all forms of life. When their mission is through, they will be returning to Earth reality; not to the stars.
